

TACORI

the tacori touch

the tacori story

We are inspired by our customers to design and deliver the perfect ring.

We travel great distances and go to great lengths to place the perfect piece of work in their hands.

For countless years our core values have included passion, teamwork and imagination.

We honor the craftsmanship and integrity of our people and our work.

we are family

Family is, to us, The Tacori Family.

It is every professional who brings his or her skill and dedication to Tacori, every day.

We rely on each other and work as a team. The success of the company rests in all of our hands.

the tacori touch

The Tacori Touch is how we describe the extraordinary level of care that goes into everything we make.

Each piece is refined by the skills of many specialists before it is ready to touch the hearts of our customers.

Our jewelry is passed from hand to hand to hand until precious raw materials are transformed into small works of art.

we are artisans

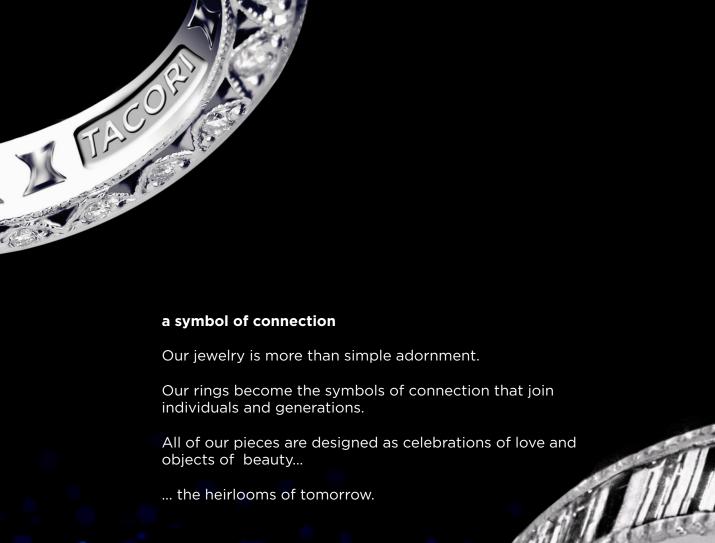

We approach our work as artisan jewelers.

Our hands are skilled and experienced in the art of shaping, refining and embellishing.

We find beauty in the details: light reflecting from a diamond's facet, crescent silhouettes surrounding a setting, the delicate engraving on a platinum band.

Just as no love story is like any other, no two pieces of Tacori are ever exactly the same.

the tacori blue

Tacori Blue is the deep blue hue which lies at the heart of a perfect diamond.

It's the dramatic color of deep waters and midnight skies. The perfect backdrop to our creations.

Regal and bold, Tacori Blue is as intense as our dedication to our craft and the passion that leads our customers to choose Tacori.

handcrafted in california

All of our jewelry is handcrafted at our headquarters in California.

There, we fuse old world elegance with modern allure to fashion new American heirlooms.

The Tacori story epitomizes the American dream. We are motivated every day to make the finest treasures we can, here in the country that made our dream possible.

the tacori promise

It's as precious to us as the diamonds we use to create this unforgettable jewelry.

Our signature. Our family name. Our promise. It is a legacy that will last for generations.

TACORI